Fate, and that is this: The colored woman that thinks that a white man is going to keep his relations with her a secret is the most deceived of all the deceived, and he makes it a point to tell some Negro, too. It is strange that a class of Negro women will continue to risk their names in the keeping of these low whites. This class of rascals—and it ranges away up the line—holds out inducements and makes promises before which the weak go down.

Let this warning go forth to every colored woman who tolerates a wink of the eye, nod of the head, or any other method of attempt at communication by any of these white muck-rakes: That she is dallying with a firebrand that will scorch, singe and burn in the end. There is no other ending to a countenance of seductive inducements but moral ruin. These rascals' promises are Dead Sea fruit, which, at last, will turn to ashes on their victim's lips.

The Jew, whose oppression and persecution have been similar to that of the Negro, has preserved his race identity by guarding his racial line against the blandishments of other races. The Jewess takes pride in her own men, respects, honors and holds them up as her ideal of worthy manhood. Women of other races do the same; then, why cannot every Negro woman do the same?

The tragedy of Sunday night was brought on by two young colored women, as it is alleged, fighting over a worthless white man who would have, without the least ceremony, kicked into the street either, had she had the temerity to have approached him in the daylight among his kind in any public place.

The sequel of the illicit relations between these two young women and their "white lover" is: one is dead and the other is in the clutches of the law. This should be a warning lesson to every colored woman in this community whose relations with some white man are similar to those which were between Renda Dillard, Mollie Thompson and their white beau.

It is significant that the names of the women appeared, but that of their white paramour was smothered in the account given out by the daily papers. Hear this parting shot: Any colored woman who is lavishing her endearments on some white rascal, is unfit for the hottest hades much less unfit to live. There is no sympathy for either of the three rascals of Sunday night's tragedy.

EBENEZER NOTES.

Prof. Ford Green delivered a very interesting address to the Sunday school on February 17.

Rev. J. A. Bryant, a firm believer in industrial education, preached a very helpful sermon Sunday at 11:30. He delivered an address on last Tuesday night on industrial education.

Mrs. Coneland, of Ebenezer, has planned to organize a ladies' reading circle to meet at the homes each month.

The rally set for last Sunday met with great success. The sum of $16.25 was raised at the morning service.

Mrs. Keeling, who has been in St. Louis for quite a time, is back home again. She was visiting her mother who died while she was there.

Mr. Elmore Telford and James Harding, Jr., are new subscribers for the Globe. Mrs. Anna Walker is agent.

Miss Hattie E. Henley is expected to be called to Chicago very soon to the bedside of her mother.

Mr. Hickman Jenkins has bought him a farm near the Glade. He also owns other real estates in the Fifteenth District.

Mr. Jenkins is a very industrious young man.

GENERAL EDUCATION FUND.

The educational movement is growing with "Jack's Bean Stalk" rapidity. It seems that the slang song, "All I want is fifty million dollars" has about become a reality so far as general education is concerned. The "fifty million dollars" was made a matter of fact by the recent gift of that ex-Baptist deacon and celebrated oil magnate, Jno. D. Rockefeller, when he made his name almost immortal by a gift of thirty-two million dollars to the general educational fund of the United States. He has built a shaft that will live ages to come, but if Mr. Rockefeller does not put or advise to put a better trustee board than the board that is handling the Peabody Fund, it is feared that much discrimination will be inaugurated and practiced in the distribution of this fund. It has been well said that Mr. Rockefeller cannot refuse one who goes to him in search of aid for a worthy cause, and for that reason he is kept away from every one. Mr. Rockefeller has given seventy-nine millions of dollars at various times for education. Some of his gifts it would be well to review. They are as follows: Chicago University, $21,000,000; Rush Medical College, $6,000,000; other colleges (estimated) $10,000,000; General Education Board, original gift, $10,000,000; General Education Board, new gift, $32,000,000. Other notable gifts to education include those of Andrew Carnegie to different institutions, about $28,000,000; Mrs. Leland Stanford, to Stanford University, $20,000,000; Cecil Rhodes, Anglo-American Scholarship, $10,000,000; P. A. Widener, Memorial Training School for Cripple Children, $9,000,000; Stephen Girard, Girard College, $8,000,000; George Peabody, $7,000,000; Wm. Marshall Rice, $6,000,000; Marshall Field, $5,000,000; and D. B. Fayerweather, $5,000,000.

It is a very notable fact that the press despatches specify the causes to which the gifts were made, all except the last three named. One was the seven million dollars of the Peabody Fund which it is said was given for the education of the deserving youth of the South and which was in the hands of a board of trustees, who it appears is distributing it to their liking and wishes.

BRENTWOOD NOTES.

The ladies of Brentwood met at the residence of Mrs. Tom Walker, and organized a sewing circle, which took the name of Magnolia. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Tom Walker, President; Mrs. Eliza Vernon, Vice President; Mrs. Laura Voorhies, Secretary; Mrs. Henry Perkins, Assistant Secretary; Mrs. Lucretia Bills, Treasurer. Much sewing was done, and business was transacted, after which the ladies retired to the dining room and were served with a four-course dinner. The following ladies were present: Mesdames Laura Voorhies, Laura Hunt, Mora Walker, Henry Perkins, Eliza Vernon, Anna Johnson, Susie Hunt, Lucy Clayborn, Lue Finnell, Cora Fields. The sewing circle adjourned to meet the following Monday at Mrs. Laura Voorhies.

Mr. Hart Battle, of the Nolensville pike, visited in Brentwood last Sunday and attended morning services at Brook's Chapel M. E. Church.

Rev. Alex. Merritt, of the Primitive Baptist Church, preached at Brook's Chapel M. E. Church last Sunday morning. He delivered an excellent sermon and gave good advice to the Christians.

The congregation of Brook's Chapel M. E. Church and community was very much disappointed by not having Dr. E. W. S. Hammond with them last Sunday. The prominent divine was confined to his home with sickness. He will in the future fill his appointment at Brook's Chapel M. E. Church.

The Magnolia Sewing Circle met at the residence of Mrs. Laura Voorhies Monday, February 18. Many members being present. Much work was completed. After the business of the circle the ladies were invited into the spacious dining room, where they feasted on the many good things of the season, which the hostess had prepared for the occasion. The following were present: Mesdames Bills, Hunt, Vernon, Woods, Fields, Walker, Misses Sable Perkins and Ella Johnson.

Mrs. Patsy Perkins, Johnson and Misses Sable Perkins and Ella Johnson attended the entertainment given by Prince Herman at Fisk University, Nashville. The ladies were very much pleased with Prince Herman's wonderful performances.

Mr. M. B. Vernon and wife visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Vernon, last Sunday.

Mrs. James Finnell is on the sick list.

BOWLING GREEN, KY., NOTES.

Mr. Anderson Perry and Miss Florence Anthony, both of this city, were united in holy wedlock last Thursday evening at the New Bethel Baptist Church. Rev. H. D. Carpenter, officiated.

Announcements have been given out that Rev. E. W. D. Isaac, D. D., of Nashville, Tenn., will lecture at the New Baptist Church, on Monday evening, March 4. He will doubtless have a large attendance, as everybody here admires the celebrated divine.

Last Sunday was a great day for church-going in this city. All the churches had large congregations, and lifted good collections. Dr. W. B. Reed and wife worshiped with the New Bethel Baptist Church last Sunday. They expressed themselves as having enjoyed the services.

The city ministers' and Deacons' meeting convened at the State Street Baptist Church last Monday night, and discussed "God's Financial Plan." A paper was read by Dr. Mitchell on the subject, which was very interesting.

Mrs. Porter Nicholson, in Delafield and her little daughter, Hallie, are on the sick list.

Mr. C. C. Barton, of Oakland, was in the city last Saturday on business.

Mrs. Alex. Johnson, of West Main street, is convalescent.

The Bowling Green Ladies' Art Club, which was organized a few weeks ago, is meeting with success.

The New Bethel Baptist Church will celebrate the Lord's Supper on Sunday, February 24. The members of this church are asked to be present, and sister churches of the same faith and order are invited.

The Old Maid's Convention to be held at State Street Baptist Church on Friday evening, March 1, promises to be a rare treat.

PEARL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

A department of Manual Training and Domestic Science will in all probability be added to this school next September. Superintendent H. C. Weber is heartily in favor of such an addition, and steps are now being taken for its introduction next school year. The principal and faculty are in favor of it on condition that the manual training course be additional and elective, instead of a substitution for something we already have. Your reporter understands that the idea of the superintendent and of the faculty is identical in this matter, and that the Manual Training Department will be strictly a new and added fixture to the old course.

Prof. F. A. Mott, accompanied by Prof. J. W. Sewell, visited the High School last week. Prof. Mott is Superintendent of the city schools of Richmond, Ind. In his address to the school he paid the pupils a high compliment on their neat, intelligent appearance, their fine order, and the superior excellence of their singing.

Misses Emma and Johnetta Terry were absent from their posts of duty two days last week on account of the sudden death of their mother. They were missed by teachers and pupils, who had a heart full of sympathy for them.

Mr. B. W. Payne of the Senior College Class of Fisk University, taught Higher English in the High School Thursday and Friday of last week. Mr. Chas. Montague acted as substitute for Miss Johnetta Terry, teaching the Fourth and Fifth Grades.

The struggle for class honors is over. Prof. F. G. Smith, the principal, has notified Miss Everil Frazier that she is to be the valedictorian of the class of 1907, and Mr. Chas. Greer, the salutatorian. Great credit is due these two young people for winning these honors. They have studied long and hard and will no doubt reflect credit on their teachers, school and parents on the night of commencement, when they deliver their addresses. In this school the honors are won by scholarship and not by a vote of the class. Hence personal popularity counts for nothing in seeking these honors. They must be won by merit.

SMYRNA NOTES.

Rev. S. Thompson was with us Sunday and as usual took a leading part in Sunday school. He preached two sermons during the day.

Mrs. B. G. Strong and little daughter, Lovie Lee, accompanied her husband on his charge this week, and were the especial guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Dunnon.

Mr. John B. Ridley spent Sunday with relatives and friends here.

The remains of Rev. Jordan Walker, an old resident of Lavergne, were brought here Friday morning for burial. Quite a number came from the city to witness the funeral, which was conducted by Rev. Dr. Luckett, assisted by Revs. Giles and Pearson.

Mrs. Geo. Smith and little daughter, Elizabeth, spent the day with the Dunnon family Sunday.

Mrs. Ellen C. Elliott, who has been here visiting for more than a month is to leave for Hot Springs, Ark., Sunday night. She will be in the city from seven till eleven-thirty, at which time her train will leave. She enjoys reading the Globe, and will have it sent to the Elliott Flat, her home in Hot Springs.

Miss Isabella Batey left for the city Friday where she expects to make her home for a while.

While making boards, Mr. Pleasant Smith was struck in the mouth, knocking out two of his teeth.

Mr. Geo. Walker was in the city last week to have his eye treated.

Mrs. Mary J. Anderson is on the sick list.

Mr. J. M. Frierson was called to the city Sunday night on business.

MRS. WILSON ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Katie Wilson entertained Sunday evening at a six-o'clock tea in honor of the Endowment Bureau that convened in Nashville Saturday, February 16, 1907. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. White, Mrs. M. A. Turner, of Pulaski; Dr. R. F. Boyd, Mrs. Sallie Ferguson, Mrs. Ellen Franklin, Mrs. Willa Townsend, Mrs. Eliza Irvin, Mrs. Hattie Irvin, Mrs. Nettie Puckett, Mrs. Ida Abston, Mrs. Easter Robertson, Sir Knight Reynolds, Mrs. Sarah Harding, Mrs. Mattie Bowling, Mrs. Lena Anderson.

The menu consisted of roast turkey, scalloped oysters, corn, green peas, celery, tomatoes, stuffed eggs, pickles, croquettes on parsley, fruit salad, served with whipped cream, cheese sandwiches, brick cream and cake.

The Johanna P. Moore Missionary Society will hold a meeting at 513 Mulberry street on the 25th of this month. The program contains an address by Rev. W. S. Ellington, and Dan Hackley Winston, Nashville's famous poet, who has contributed frequently to the columns of the Globe, is to read one of his poems. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock p. m., and is open to the public.
